Defer Action on 24th Street Light System Says Spouse Struck Her; Seeks Divorce

After consideration of the matter of installing a street lighting system on Twenty-fourth street between Washington and Harrison avenues, at a board meeting last night the board of city commissioners decided that no action will be taken this year by the city. It was ordered that the petition of O. J. Stilwell and others be filed.

Cruelty is charged in a suit for divorce filed in the district court by Gertrude Roberts Johnson against William Johnson. The complaint sets forth that on and prior to May 16, 1920, her husband has treated her brutally and on that date knocked her down. At various times since Mrs. Johnson alleges her husband struck her. Mrs. Johnson asks for dissolution of the matrimonial ties and the restoration of her maiden name, Gertrude Roberts. The couple were married at Rock Island, Ill., March 27, 1909. There are no children. The defendant was formerly in the employ of the railroad in Ogden.

LEGION POST TO STAGE BIG SHOW

Musical Comedy Planned During Winter; Miss Heywood's Letter Endorsed

Under the auspices of the Herman Baker post No. 9 of the American Legion and with many of the legion members taking part, a musical comedy will be staged in Ogden before December. The opera this year will be one of the best known and one of the highest royalty plays which can be staged in the American stage. While no definite decision has been made as to the choice, tentative plans are being made to stage "Madame Sherry" or "The Three Twins" or another play of equally as high quality.

TO MEET THURSDAY. "Bob" Majors will have direction of choosing the cast and whipping it into shape in coming weeks. He will begin his work Thursday night at 7 o'clock at a meeting in the Knights of Pythias hall at which time all members of the cast of "Piff, Paff, Puff," last year's production, are urged to be present. Other young women of Ogden who desire to take part in the opera are invited to attend as well as ex-service men and all members of the American Legion.

No date has yet been decided upon for the opera to open here or in other towns throughout the country where performances will be given. The announcement, however, will be made within a few days.

At last night's special meeting of the local American Legion post the members took up plans for carrying on the work of the Glee club, which was formed during the preceding meeting. The members voted that $50 be appropriated for the support of the new organization. The Glee club was organized here recently with Norman Sims as president; Andrew W. Kauts, business manager, and William Kauts, secretary. It is planned to make the club one of the leading organizations of its kind in the city. Harry Morrison of the community service has agreed to assist in the work.

ENDORSE GIRL'S SENTIMENT. The legion members last night endorsed a resolution praising Miss Mary E. Heywood, 329 Ogden avenue, for voicing her sentiments in regard to the patriotism and loyalty of American girlhood and womanhood. This morning the following letter was sent to her by the legion members:

"Pursuant to a motion duly made, seconded, and carried at a regular meeting at this post of the American Legion, held September 20, 1920, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Whereas, after circumstances peculiarly affording to the honorable records of ex-service men and particularly offensive to the patriotism and loyalty of American girlhood and womanhood, Miss Mary E. Heywood has publicly and courageously expressed the hysteria which have risen to these circumstances and reproaching it and asserting the integrity of ex-service men and the patriotism and loyalty of American girlhood and womanhood; and

Whereas, we as American citizens and ex-service men most heartily believe in and endorse the sentiments expressed by Miss Mary E. Heywood and appreciate her courage and fortitude in expressing them; now therefore

"Be it resolved, that a vote of appreciation and esteem be extended to Miss Mary E. Heywood and a copy of this resolution be spread upon the minute book of this post, and a copy thereof be struck and forwarded to Miss Mary E. Heywood.

The above resolution was adopted after the reading to the members of this post assembled of your communal citation in the September 20 issue of the Standard-Examiner.

I regret that the formality and the language fails adequately to express the warmth and depth of our appreciation of your action.

Sincerely yours,
J. L. LITTLEFIELD,
Adjutant, Herman Baker Post No. 9 of Utah, American Legion."

REMOVE MIRROR FROM ELEVATORS; GIRLS IN UPROAR

Elevator girls may no more primp or powder noses in elevators for the use of mirrors in the lifts has been prohibited by the state. Such was the information reaching Ogden this morning from Salt Lake.

In the elevators of the large buildings in Ogden, Utah, the state the girls are now and have been employed on the lifts for some time. In many instances accidents have occurred, it is said, through the operator's negligence in too much overpowering their noses, puffing curls and other methods of beauty adornment.

Insurance agencies representing the various elevator companies in the United States suggested the move some weeks ago, and so the mirrors were ordered removed over the protests of the young ladies.

CHINESE SCATTERS WHEN AVALANCHE OF ICE HITS NEAR

This is the tale of a heathen Chinese, who thought he was injured and bent it.

The celestial was a vegetable man, as are many of his race, and was proceeding sedately along Twenty-fifth street behind a moth-eaten, drab-colored nag.

A heavily-laden ice wagon crossed their path near Twenty-fifth street and Lincoln avenue, and in bumping through the gutter to enter an alleyway, shook loose its entire cargo of frozen slush.

With the noise of an honest-to-goodness avalanche, the frozen mass crashed to the pavement directly in front of the horse, who, despite continual jerkings of the reins, was slumbering peacefully. Old Dobbin, at the crash, made by the first falling ice cake, reverted to days of colthood and for a moment stepped "high-wide-and-handsome."

Sing Lee, or One Lung emitted a shriek, leaped from his seat in the wagon, and disappeared around a corner at a ten-foot gallop.

Half an hour later Detective W. A. Jones located the vegetable peddler and finally convinced him that there had been no earthquake and that he could safely resume his hawking of squash and turnips.

SUDS and the THOR

You'll See Both at The Alhambra

You can tell by the very title that "Suds" is a great picture. And the fact that Mary Pickford is going to play the leading part is all that is needed to make it a masterpiece.

But the film isn't the only interesting thing you are going to see as you enter the Alhambra. In the lobby is Mary Pickford herself—or at least, a girl who looks so much like her that you can hardly tell them apart.

And she, too, is going to be dabbling in a great foamy mass of suds overflowing the sides of a Thor Electric Washer. She is there to tell you what making suds and all the other features of washing mean to the modern housewife who has a Thor with which to perform this important household task.

Be sure to see "Suds," playing at the Alhambra for four days beginning Sunday. And be sure to see the Thor display in the lobby of the Alhambra all the rest of this week beginning tonight.
